HOME AFFAIRS.

The Fate of Our "Paper Towns."

SOME LOCAL POLITICS.

The Reliance Club Addressed by Judge Herndon—Clan-Na-Gael at the Tent.

A joint meeting of the Board of Trade and the Committee of Arrangements for the reception of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows was held last evening at the rooms of the Board of Trade. A considerable amount of money was subscribed and the following resolutions were afterward adopted by the Board of Trade:

WHEREAS, The Sovereign Grand Lodge of the World of Odd Fellows assembles in our city September 17th, 1887; and,

WHEREAS, In this assemblage we recognize the fact that the representative people of not only our own, but of foreign countries, will visit the Pacific Coast; and,

WHEREAS, The great benefit to our State will be in having as many of our Pacific Coast people as possible meet our visitors, and in order to accomplish this, the success will greatly depend upon the rate charged by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to and from Los Angeles; and

WHEREAS, It has been reported that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company has fixed the rate of fare at one and one-third from northern points in the State for the round trip to Los Angeles to Odd Fellows only; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Los Angeles Board of Trade, representing the entire mercantile community of Los Angeles, in general meeting now assembled, urgently request the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to fix said rate at one fare for the round trip to all visitors to Los Angeles during the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Resolved, further, That the President of the Board of Trade be requested to cause a copy of these resolutions to be immediately forwarded to A. N. Towne, Esq., General Manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, at San Francisco, Cal.

"A PAPER TOWN."

What Has Become Of One Of These Ventures.

The term "Paper town" is applied to the new places founded in this section during the recent boom. The term carries with it to the ears of the prejudiced a strong sense of opprobrium. It is supposed in certain quarters that the losses sustained by the unwary from investing in "Paper towns" would run up into the millions if they could all be gathered into one exhibit.

Between 1882 and the present year of grace the entire area of South California grew apace in population. Hundreds of miles of railroad were built through it, and many industries were put on their feet. The population of Los Angeles county increased from 20,880 to 175,000 souls. All other counties in the section have grown in proportion—if not quite so rapidly as Los Angeles, yet very greatly. In this development, of course, many new towns have sprung up. The real estate "boomer" is nothing if not quick to take a hint. He laid out a great many townsites, and to do so invaded the fruitful borders of many a vineyard orchard. It was a familar sight to see the lot stakes standing in the rows of the vines or amid the orange trees. These were the only outward, visible signs of a town in the vicinity. If you went to the "boomer's" office he would show you a city—on paper. It had a big hotel, water works, a bank, street car lines and all the other belongings of a town. They were all on paper, and as yet no "local habitation" but merely a "name" made the "airy nothing" a town. Hence the term "paper towns."

The prevalant idea away from here is that all the the new towns thus laid out in these parts during the past few years were of this delusive and deceptive nature—fruitless and disappointing to those who had put their money into the "losing quest." It is here proposed to sketch the brief history of one such place as a sample of nearly all of them.

SOUTH RIVERSIDE.

South Riverside is the place selected as the example of what has been made of "Paper Towns." About two years ago the plain stretching from the mouth of the Temescal Cañon to the Santa Ana river, and lying between Riverside and the Yorba Cañon, was a pasture for sheep and cattle. The Yorbas, who owned the ranch, had pastured this mesa for many years. About the time referred to some one called the attention of R. B. Taylor, then of Anaheim, to this tract. He went up and

"Viewed the landscape o'er."

He then went on to his old home in Iowa and there enlisted the interest of ex-Governor Merrill of that State, of Geo. L. Joy and others of the same place. The upshot was that they purchased the ranch from the Yorbas, and the town of South Riverside was duly laid out—on paper. It took more than six months to get the "Paper" town made, and it required nearly six months more to get at work in reality on the building the town. South Riverside is therefore about a year old. The California Central railroad from San Bernardino to San Diego via Santa Ana passes through it. This "Papertown" to-day has a hotel, a bank, more than one hundred houses, and is growing like a weed under a July sun. There are between 450 and 500 souls in the place. It has the credit of containing 150 actual voters. At the end of five years from to-day there will be not less than 5,000 inhabitants in South Riverside.

WHAT THE COMPANY HAS DONE.

The enterprising men who laid out the town first, went to work to develop a water system. First and last, they have expended $300,000 on this. Several fine flowing wells have been bored in the Temescal cañon, and their waters piped to the town and lands. The sales of small lots and small farms have returned to the company all their outlay, including the first cost of the land and that of piping the water from the cañon. It is estimated at a close figure that the company has lands and town lots valued at $2,000,000. The Pomona and Elsinore Railway is to pass through South Riverside. R. B. Taylor, the original exploiter of the scheme, is now constructing a motor road from San Bernardino to South Riverside. Many fruit farms have been planted in and about the town. A company has gone in and laid down a plant for grinding porphyry for grading purposes, which has cost tens of thousands of dollars. It is nearly complete and will be in operation within a month. When once set in motion it will turn out ten to twenty carloads of street paving stuff a day. The company has orders ahead for all the material they can turn out in the next ten or twelve months.

A tile and sewer pipe company is the next industry to be set on foot at South Riverside. The capital and stockholders are both recent importations from the East. The clay at South Riverside cannot be surpassed, and before many months pass this industry will be in motion.

Such is one of the "Paper towns" of the Semi-Tropics. It may be taken as a fair average specimen; for while mistakes have been made here and there in the laying out of towns on paper, and while in some instances the "mistakes" were made by design—to indulge in an Irish bull—yet in the great majority of cases the "Paper towns" of the past few years have panned out like South Riverside, and sometimes "more so."

THE RELIANCE CLUB.

A Masterly Address by Colonel Herndon.

The regular weekly meeting of the Reliance Democratic Club was held last night in Judge Hutton's Courtroom, with Mr. W. L. Price in the chair and Mr. J. S. Mackenzie acting as Secretary. The first business done was the enrolling of eighteen members, and then the following honorary members were elected: Messrs. Geo. Herrmann, A. S. Hobbs, E. P. Bryan, F. A. Eagleson, A. Steinike, Martin Lehman, L. Whitcomb, James O. Brien, R. Chervis, Robert Evan McGregor, J. Pillig, R. J. Dominguez, M. Morris, Col. Herndon and Gen. E. E. Hewitt. When it was announced that Col. Herndon would address the meeting there was great applause, and the gentleman in question then made a most eloquent oration. He scored the recent Republican speakers Williams and Fitch very heavily, and treated the tariff and surplus questions in a very logical and masterly manner. His hit at the Republicans was one from the shoulder when he described their tactics in the South, and the various good points elucidated were heartily applauded by the interested audience. Col. Herndon's speech lasted for about two hours and at its conclusion short addresses were made by Mr. S. B. Lockwood, Col. O. H. Violet, Col. Flournoy and Mr. Geo. Herrmann. A committee of five was appointed for the purpose of getting Hazard's Pavilion or the Turner Hall for an evening during the next two weeks, for the purpose of having a Democratic mass meeting under the auspices of the Reliance Club, and for the occasion Col. Herndon has promised to speak. The names of the committeemen are Messrs. G. D. Roberts, J. S. Mackenzie, G. T. East, R. L. Binford and M. C. Fordham. Some minor business was then disposed of and adjournment taken until Friday evening next.

THE IRISH REPUBLICANS.

Holy Hogan Makes a Fiery Speech. See Below.

The sounds of a bagpipe issuing from the tent corner of Second and Fort streets last evening attracted a couple of hundred people inside, where it was announced that the meeting was held under the auspices of the Irish-American Republican club. The bagpipe played for half an hour, and shortly after eight o'clock a number of speakers, including Governor Waterman, made their appearance on the stage. Governor Waterman was introduced to the audience and said that if he were well acquainted with the situation of affairs he would say something of interest but as he was not he asked to be excused. He shortly afterward left the tent accompanied by several of the speakers who preceded him. Perhaps the most important event of the evening was this—

CHANGE OF MANAGERS.

Mr. H. E. Moore Has Retired From the Management of the Nadeau.

Mr. Frank Maynes, for a number of years with the Parker House, Boston, Mass., will hereafter be associated with Mr. H. W. Chase. Mr. Jos. Schreiber will continue to manage the affairs of the house in his usual happy way.

Mr. T. J. Field, lately connected with some prominent Eastern hotels, has been engaged by Manager Schreiber as chief clerk. The rotunda is being enlarged to twice its present dimensions. It will be handsomely tiled and frescoed and a marble wainscoting will be put in. It is the intention of the proprietors to increase the number of rooms to 400 next spring.

The real estate sales in this county in the months of June, July, August and September, 1887, eclipsed in volume anything of the kind ever put on record in the world. The sales averaged during the four months in question at from over $10,000,000 to nearly $12,000,000 in each month. That business was done largely by local dealers. During the previous winter speculators had cleaned out nearly all their holdings to new settlers. They had made large sums in these transactions, and they proceeded to load up for the winter campaign. In three days sales of $1,000,0000 in magnitude were not by any means rare. Great ranches were bought up by syndicates and cut up into small farms for the purpose of selling them to actual settlers. During the present year there have not been recorded many such sales. The greatest number of these ranches have gone into the hands of dealers and have been cut up. Sales of these lands in small farms are going on at no slow pace. Nearly 2,500 transfers of realty in one month is a figure that does not mean a dull market. Of that number nearly 1,000 are at sums running about $1,000 each, and about as many more are for sums ranging below $1,000 each. The lowest daily sum of sales is nearly $75,000, while the largest is for over a quarter of a million. In this land of the "boom" these transactions are supposed to indicate a quiet market; but in any other section they would be brave figues indeed. There is certainly no wild rush going on in speculation. The dealing is strictly legitimate; purchases are made by actual settlers and are for immediate improvement. The feeling is one of great confidence in real property. Holders have cut up their accounts; they are able to see just where they stand; there is an utter absence of selling pressure, and a strong feeling of certainty that the coming winter will be marked by a very large influx of people from the East who will be home-seekers, and as such buyers of real property. At this particular season of the year it is nearly always easier to buy a piece of property at a rather moderate price than is the case later in the year, when there are three times as many enquirers in the market and when holders are sure of effecting a sale to-morrow if they fail to land a customer to-day. This has been the rule all the years, with the single exception of 1887. This year will follow the rule rather than the exception which pro

THE RAILROADS.

Collapse of the New Freight Tariff Expected.

CHICAGO LEFT IN THE COLD.

The G. A. R. Excursion to Columbus to Leave the City To-night. Depot Notes.

There is a good deal of excitement in freight circles just now. The new tariff rates issued by the Transcontinental Association have roused a storm such as has seldom been seen before since the vast network of American railways was constructed. The Transcontinental Association presumably issued its tariff on the rulings of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and as this made discrimination for seabord points, the result has been to leave the interior in the cold. As an instance, hardware is quoted at $1.80 a hundred from New York to the Coast and at $3 from Missouri river points, $3.20 from the Mississippi, $3.40 from Chicago, and $3.50 from Pittsburgh. This practically ruins business in Chicago, and the merchants of that city are preparing an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. But there is another grievance. The trunk lines, those running east of Chicago and St. Louis, say that their pro rata is not sufficient to induce them to accept any overland business at all, and as a result no goods are being booked from Los Angeles to points east of Chicago. To-day, however, bills of lading will be made out over the Sunset road to Atlantic seaboard points, and as this is the only line in the United States that can now do the Eastern business, heavy traffic is expected. It looks rather strange that matters should be thus, and in railroad circles it is pretty openly hinted that the new transcontinental tariff has been issued for the sole benefit of Messrs. Stanford and Huntington. The effect of the new rates is rather remarkable; for a merchant in Pittsburg desiring to ship to Los Angeles can get by far the cheapest rate by first shipping to New York and then from there to the Pacific. There is no doubt but that this state of things cannot last long, and a general collapse of the tariff is shortly expected.

NEW LINES.

What the St. Louis and S. F. Road Is Doing.

Mr. H. C. Dinkins, Pacific Coast Passenger Agent of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway, is in the city. Talking about railroad matters yesterday he said to a HERALD reporter: "The road I represent is doing some important building at the present time. From our terminus at Denison we are constructing into Dallas, Texas, and this will give us a straight run from the last named point instead of having to go around the bend through Paris. The most important project on hand though is the projected road from Seligman on the State line between Missouri and Arkansas, to Memphis, as this will run through an old and thickly settled district. I do not think that there is much probability of the St. Louis road building out just yet from its terminus at Sapulpa to Albuquerque, as the policy of the directory is rather to build in an already populated district than to run lines through a new country, on the hopes of it building up afterwards. It will be a splendid piece of road when it is built, for it will shorten the distance from Los Angeles to St. Louis by 300 miles, as the A. T. & S. F. and T. P. lines at present run on the outer edges of an oval to that point. Then again it is a great cattle country in there, as is evidenced by the fact that we shipped 1,400 cars of stock from Sapulpa last year, when connection is made between the two points named, the St. Louis road will have an equal traffic over the Atlantic and Pacific with the Santa Fe, for as you know the Atlantic and Pacific was divided into thirteenths and the St. Louis and Santa Fe roads hold six-thirteenths each, and the other one-thirteenth being in trust so that neither of the lines can obtain control of the road. The St. Louis road, however, has at present a traffic arrangement over the Atchison from Halstead, so there is no security for their building out west for competition purposes."

THE COLUMBUS EXCURSION.

A Special Train to Leave Over the S. P. To-night.

This evening at 9:30 o'clock the special excursion train over the Southern Pacific to the Columbus Encampment will leave the city. Up to last night four cars had been chartered, and it is evident that a good many people are about to take advantage of the cheap rates offered, in addition to which such unusual opportunities for sight-seeing are given. Two Pullman and two tourist cars will run through from this city without change over the Southern Pacific, in addition to which a number of passengers will travel via the Santa Fe. There was a rumor about town yesterday that persons going by the S. P. line would be compelled to go and return over the same route, but this was strongly repudiated on application to that company's official headquarters. The official route is via Portland, St. Paul and Chicago to Columbus; returning via Chicago, Council Bluffs and Ogden. Many, however, going East via Ogden and returning via St. Paul and Portland, and again quite a number are traveling over the Santa Fe. The indications are that the trip will be a pleasant one.

A LARGER DEPOT.

What the Anaheim People Ask of the Santa Fe.

The following communication has been received at the offices of General Manager McCool, of the California Central and California Southern:

"The undersigned, residents and business men of Anaheim, feeling a friendly interest in the California Central Railway, and being desirous of doing all in their power to forward its interests, beg leave to offer the company a suggestion, which, if acted upon, will accomplish the double purpose of being profitable to the company and giving a convenience to the people of this city and vicinity. Knowing the amount of freight which will be shipped from your depot at Anaheim, we are satisfied that the building now being erected is entirely too small. We therefore beg to suggest a larger warehouse be built on your ample grounds here for the storage of wine, wool, grain and hay, which bulky articles constitute a large portion of the shipments from this place. We are certain that such a warehouse is a necessity and suggest its immediate erection in the belief that it could be built more economically while yet the carpenters are at work upon the depot building."

Pullman Passengers.

The following Pullman passengers left yesterday for San Francisco and the North:

By the 12:45 P. M. train: Mrs. Durbro, C. Cabot, Mr. Turner, Dr. Echluner, Mrs. Wilkins, W. H. Benes, Mr. Fairchilds, E. W. Fox, Mr. Leadbetter, Mr. Rhodes, Miss Slattherwaite, N. Burbank.

By the 9:30 P. M. train: Mr. North, Mr. Nesmith, Mr. Overreker, Mr. Deming, J. Downey Harvey.

General Gleanings.

Trainmaster Thompson will be back at his post of duty to-day.

The California Central's short line to San Diego cost $2,000,000.

The Southern Pacific pay car got in at 5:30 last night and put the boys in good humor.

Mr. S. A. Desmond has been appointed Station Agent for the California Central at Anaheim.

Mr. Len Harris, the adroit Southern Pacific detective, has returned from his northern trip.

The recent severe storms in Arizona have caused no washouts on the Southern Pacific as has been rumored.

Train No. 17 was delayed up north again yesterday, and was one hour and fifteen minutes behind time on reaching this city.

The ship Henrietta, from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, arrived at San Pedro yesterday with 1,897 tons of coal for the Southern Pacific.

The earnings of the California Southern for the first week of August amounted to $25,743, an increase of $6,142 over the corresponding period last year.

Mr. W. S. Baldwin, Pacific Coast Agent of the Vanderbilt system is about to make his first visit to Los Angeles. He will be here on Monday next.

The Vanderbilt system has at last established an office in this city, and has obtained quarters at 23 North Spring street, where Mr. A. Burr is in charge.

A steamer to carry freight and passenger cars is soon to be built for the San Francisco and Northern Pacific line and will ply between Tiburon and San Francisco.

Electricity has finally been successfully appled to the lighting of passenger cars, the limited vestibuled trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad being now illuminated by electric lights generated by a dynamo placed in the baggage car and run by steam.

A Street Collision.

There was a smash-up at the corner of Main and First streets, yesterday, shortly after the hour of noon. As a one horse buggy, driven by Mr. J. S. Crossley, was turning the corner, a two horse dirt wagon, driven by a colored man, came in collision with his vehicle. The pole of the wagon caught under the wheel of the buggy, turning it completely over, and throwing Mr. Crossley with great violence to the ground. He was rather badly shaken up, but did not sustain any very severe injuries.

The New Ball Grounds.

To-day the new baseball grounds at Prospect Park, on the Los Angeles County Railroad, will be formally opened by a match between the Pasadena and Los Angeles nines. Special trains will leave the Sisters' Hospital at 12:30, 1:30 and 2:10 P. M., and connecting cars will be run over the Temple street cable line. Mr. Gorman, the manager of the grounds, has made every arrangement that can induce a good day's sport, and those who attend are certain to get the worth of the small amount they will have to expend.

Caught a Sign.

As one of Burlingame's dirt wagons was going up Temple street last night it collided with the sign in front of the saloon on the corner of New High street, completely wrenching it off. The proprietor was rather excited at the occurrence, but cooled down when he was satisfied that it was an accident.

WILL SUPPORT CLEVELAND.

Why Frank R. Stockton Intends Voting the Democratic Ticket.

The most remarkable thing about the Madison Democratic Campaign Club of Madison, N. J., is that it numbers among its Vice-Presidents just elected, Frank R. Stockton, the author, who until recently, was a radical Republican. He wants to see Mr. Cleveland re-elected. The way Mr. Stockton came to be converted to a radiant supporter of Grover Cleveland was because of his recent visit to Washington. He went there as one of a committee of seven sent to represent the American authors to see about the passage of a copyright bill. A day or two after their arrival, Mr. Stockton and two others were sent to the White House as a sub-committee to ascertain the probable fate of their bill.

The President received the committee in his library, where they found him hard at work over his papers. When their errand was explained, Mr. Cleveland at once took up a draft of the Copyright bill from under a paper weight and proceeded to point out what, in his opinion, were defects from the standpoint of an author, and suggested amendments.

The committee withdrew, and when they reported to their colleagues it was the unanimous opinion of the whole committee that the President was not only right in his views, but he had given the authors valuable hints which they were not slow in adopting. Subsequently the President and his wife invited them to call for luncheon. On their arrival Mr. Cleveland met the visitors most heartily, but asked leave to withdraw until luncheon was ready, on the plea that it was then noon and he had an important paper to send to Congress before 2 o'clock.

Mr. Stockton says these two incidents impressed him with the fact that Mr. Cleveland was a man who not only strictly attended to business, but did it thoroughly and without affectation. He has, therefore, decided to vote for the Democratic candidate, though it will be the first time.—[S. F. Examiner.

TOM FITCH CORRECTED.

One Republican Law Which the Democrats Repealed.

EDITORS HERALD—Hon. Tom Fitch, in his speech last night said: "They (the Democrats) looked for Republican laws to repeal, and, to their disgust, there was not one statute in all the nation's libraries upon which either the commerce or the conscience of the country would permit them to lay a destroying hand."

In Vol. XV, page 385, of United States Statutes at Large, will be found a Republican law entitled "An act to encourage immigration." This act was approved on the 4th day of July, 1864.

The second section says: "And be it further enacted, that all contracts that shall be made by emigrants to the United States in foreign countries in conformity to regulations that may be established by the said Commissioner, whereby emigrants shall pledge the wages of their labor for a time not exceeding twelve months, to pay the expenses of their emigration, shall be held to be valid in law, and may be enforced in the courts of the United States or of the several States and Territories; and such advances, if so stipulated in the contract, and the contract be recorded in the Recorder's office in the county where the emigrant shall settle, shall operate as a lien upon any land thereafter acquired by the emigrant, whether under the homestead law when title is consummated, or on property otherwise acquired, until liquidated."

This law, under which the paupers of Europe were brought to America under a contract of service, was in force for a period of 21 years. The "destroying hand" of a Democratic Administration not only repealed it (1885) but made it a penal offense to induce immigration under a contract for service. "The conscience of the country" acquiesces in the repeal of such iniquitous legislation with infinitely more complacency than do the protected Barons who have grown rich from the service of pauper labor imported from Europe under the section of this law. This enactment furnishes documentary evidence of the solicitude which the Republican party has manifested for the laboring man of America.

JAY G. GEE.

"We'll Blow It In."

EDITORS HERALD—It would be well for all Republican bankers and business men and, in fact, all who belong to that party and have an interest in the future prosperity of the country and desire a reduction of the public debt, to consider the following airy proposition of the Honorable Tom Fitch in his speech at Hazard's Pavilion last night, as follows: "'There is the surplus; what shall we do with it?' I can tell you in four simple words: We'll blow it in."

Then follows a list of visionary schemes worthy of Col. Sellers or Baron Munchausen. Now, considering what the country has gone through, the burden of taxation upon the people and the large amount of land under mortgage in the country at large, together with the large National debt upon our shoulders, which must be paid some day, what sensible man would entrust his interests and the interest of his country to the management of a party controlled and guided by men advocating such views as these. To put this airy proposition in practical shape, consider for one moment, what your reply would be to a person who professed such principles, were he to apply to you for a position as manager of your bank or business. You very naturally, not wishing your surplus to be blown in, would prefer to put your business in the hands of some more conservative person, and one who would not be so liberal with other people's money.

The curse of the country under Republican rule has been the ascendency of men of this class.

Men possessing no business ability where business has to be done on a legitimate basis, and who can't stand competition, and therefore desire to conduct all business on a speculative basis, and by means of combinations, thus placing every kind of business on a false basis, and wrecking the legitimate business of the country. They can only prosper under jobbery, and combination. Under them the rich become richer and the poor, poorer, and we will end by becoming a nation of serfs. They have got up gigantic railroad and telegraph combinations on the money furnished by confiding stockholders, and in each case have blown the stockholders' money into the pockets of the ring. They have lobbied and jobbed railroad grants through Congress until the map of the country west of the Mississippi presents such a network of grants that the settler in search of a home on the boasted public domain cannot set his foot down without stepping on some vested or accrued rights, present or prospective. In this way they have blown in the public lands—lands bought by the people's money and conquered by the pioneer.

They have kept a high war tariff up, taxing the people and enriching at the expense of the people many men who could not run a business on a legitimate basis, thus allowing them to make fortunes each year, which are spent in Europe for pleasure, and to bring up children who return to their native country with less love for it and its institutions than the veriest Russian serf that lands on its shores for the first time. They have allowed foreign pauper contract labor to take the place of our home workers in the mills and factories which have been built up at the cost and expense of the people, aand in return for the benefits that have been granted them they have blown the American workman out of work.

They have blown the timber on the public land into the hands of timber trusts and syndicates. And nothing now remains to be jobbed on; the air, thank God, they can't control.

Hence they have turned their attention to the desert and the mountain streams. These are to be corraled under some philanthropic scheme to put money in the pockets of the now hungry ring. The bayous of the South are to be cleared out in order to give the alligator a chance.

Why did not the gentleman's party enforce the telegraph clause on the railroad and telegraph grant lines when they were in power? It did not take the Democrats long to enforce it, and make them receive the business of the people. What plain, sensible man who depends on honest business or labor would put his faith in such leaders.

THE SOTO CASE

Still on Trial in the Supreme Court. Small Witnesses.

The trial of the Mexican boy Soto, who is accused of making an indecent assault upon little Tillie Vest, continued throngh the day yesterday in Judge Cheney's court. An entertaining feature of the trial was the effort of the prosecution to obtain testimony from the two children, Walter and Tillie Vest. Walter is ten years of age and Tillie not quite five. According to the law of this State a child under ten is competent to give testimony if he has sufficient intelligence to perceive and narrate anything that has happened, and if he appreciates the difference between truth and falsehood.

Little Walter acted in a very shy fashion when brought to the stand, and it was only with considerable difficulty that any answers were obtained from him.

"Walter, do you tell lies?" asked the Court.

"No, sir," whispered Walter.

"Do you know what happens to little boys that tell lies?"

"They get whipped."

After a few more questions the Court said that he was satisfied as to the witness appreciating the difference between truth and falsehood, but the attorneys for the defense still had doubts.

"Walter," said one of the gentlemen, "Can you tell me what truth is?"

"Just have his answer taken down," said the District Attorney, "I have been wanting to find out what the truth is for a long time."

Walter did not attempt to define truth.

"Can you tell me who God is and where he lives," continued the lawyer.

"There are a good many wise men who have given that question up," said the Court. "We can hardly expect a child to tell us."

After a few more questions it was decided that Walter was too shy to get anything out of him and little Tillie was brought in. The Judge made use of a vent which he discovered in the little one's dress as an illustration and succeeded in getting from her a pretty clear statement that it was naughty to tell lies and that little girls who did so got burnt up." For a child of four, Tillie was certainly very bright and was more promising as a witness than her older brother. She did not escape the attorneys for the defense however.

"Tillie," she was asked, "Do you understand the nature of an oath?"

The little one stared in silence at the questioner.

"Do you understand what it is to swear or to make an affidavit?"

"Ask her if she understands a posse comitatus or a writ of replevin," said the Court, and the Sheriff had some difficulty in suppressing the laughter of the spectators.

It was finally decided that as far as the comprehension of the difference between truth and falsehood was concerned Tillie was worthy to go on the witness stand. The testimony was thrown out on other grounds.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors.

The annual meeting of the Directors of the State Normal School of Los Angeles, took place in this city yesterday morning at the Normal School building. There were present: Governor Waterman, Lieutenant-Governor Stephen M. White, Mrs. Clara Foltz, Col. Geo. H. Smith, G. W. Childs and Prof. Ira More. The meeting was in every respect harmonious, and the unanimity with which action was taken, argued well for the prosperity of the institution in their care. The Board of last year was reelected with O. W. Childs as President, Col. George H. Smith as Vice-President, and Prof. Ira More as Secretary. The Executive Committee for the coming year is unchanged, consisting of Messrs. O. W. Childs, G. H. Smith and Lieutenant-Governor S. M. White.

The matter of a gymnasium for advanced physical culture, was thoroughly discussed, and ended in a resolation to petition the Legislature for an appropriation to erect a building suitable for that purpose. Various other needed improvements were to be included in this petition. A resolution was passed looking to an increase of the salaries paid to the teachers during the next fiscal year. It appearing from the financial report that there was a small surplus left from the appropriation of last year, there was some discussion as to how it should be employed. Governor Waterman, who had recently paid a visit to the Lick Observatory at Mount Hamilton, was very enthusiastic over the beauty and value of the study of astronomy, and argued strongly that this money could not be put to a better use than the purchase of a telescope, which would be of service not to the school alone, but to all the residents of Los Angeles who are interested in the mysteries of the heavens. It was finally decided to employ the surplus in accordance with Governor Waterman's idea.

A QUEER CASE.

A Brood of Mares and Colts Sued for Board and Lodging.

A brown mare with a bay colt, a bay filly, a bay mare and sorrel colt were sued in the Superior Court yesterday for board and lodging by Rafael Machado, who alleges that the animal on May 10th, ran onto his land in the Rancho Rincon de Los Bueyes and for ten days wandered about devouring the verdure and damaging the agricultural products of the rancho to the extent of $200. He also sues the animals for their board amounting to $101 and asks that judgement be rendered against them for $301. The suit has some peculiarities about it. The Sheriff is obliged in all cases to serve the defendants with copies of the complaint. The question is how will he serve the complaint in this instance and will he be required to serve a copy to each defendant? The animals may not be able to accept personal service and should it be done by publication, the advertisement might never be read by them. Of course they will make no answer and judgement will be taken against them by default, and then the question will arise as to how they will pay and how they will be required to pay into Court the costs of the suit? These conundroms agitated the minds of the Deputy County Clerks yesterday.

FOR COLUMBUS.

The Exhibit to Start East To-Morrow Night.

The Southern California exhibit for Columbus will leave this city on Sunday evening, at 10 o'clock, in charge of Mr. Stanton. Quite a number of consignments have been received and it is expected that the three cars that are to be taken East will contain sufficient samples of the products of Southern California to eclipse every other exhibit at the G. A. R. Encampment. The hall which has been assigned to Southern California is said to be the best on the grounds and entirely separate. Recent advices state that it has been placed in excellent shape for the exhibits which go forward at this time. Secretary T. H. Ward of the Board of Trade has been very busy in receiving and placing the exhibits in shape. He requests that all those who desire to send displays of any kind East will deliver them at the rooms of the Board of Trade at as early an hour to-day as possible.

ACTIONS AT LAW.

Valuable Property Involved in a New Suit.

An action involving the title to valuable realty in this city has just been entered in the Superior Court by Charles H. Dimmick. The complaint alleges that Kimball H. Dimmick, father of the plaintiff in this case, died intestate, in the city of Los Angeles, September 1, 1861, being seized and possessed at the time of his death of the following parcels of land, to-wit: Lots 7 and 9, block 3, Ord's survey, fronting Spring street on the east, between Second and Third; a lot of about two acres, fronting on the west side of San Pedro street; a lot of similar size, on the east side of San Pedro street; also of personal property valued at $250. It is alleged that the deceased left a wife and two sons in the State of New York, who were his lawful heirs, but it appearing to the local authorities that there were no known heirs, George Carson, the principal defendant in this case, applied for letters of administration, which were granted by the Probate Court, and the estate of the deceased was subsequently settled according to the usual way, several claimants being allowed reimbursements, and the property being disposed of among various purchasers. The plaintiff, however, alleges that said letters of administration were procured illegally, and that the estate was administered in an irregular manner. Proper notice of same was not given, and the alleged heirs did not learn of the circumstances of their relative's death until within three years of the commencement of this action. The claims of the mother and brother having been duly assigned to the plaintiff, Charles H. Dimmick, he now asks the court to set aside all former proceedings, that he may come into possession of his rights by inheritance and assignment. Among the parties to the suit, who have become connected by purchase of portions of the disputed property, or otherwise, are Julian Valdez, Mary Joseph Cashel, John Lang, Robert McGarvin, John Stein, E. E. White, Henrietta J. Workman, Alfred Workman, A. L. Bath, N. W. Stowell, Patrick Goodwin, and a number of others unknown by name.

Matilda B. de Sanchez comes to the court for relief in a business transaction she has had with one Manuel Contreras. It develops from the complaint filed in the County Clerk's office, that Contreras rented a certain tract of land from the plaintiff for farming purposes, agreeing to pay therefor a rental of one-third of the products. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant has not turned over any portion of said rental although he has occupied the place since February 1, 1887, and successive crops have been harvested and garnered; wherefore plaintiff prays from such redress from her tenant as the court may deem fit in the premises to allow.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

To Be Held at Pasadena this Month.

On the 13th of September the M. E. Church Conference of Southern California will commence at Pasadena. The general features of the programme, subject to some changes, will be as follows:

The Conference will be presided over by Bishop Thomas Bowman, D. D., L. L. D.

Preliminary meeting—Anniversary of the Church Extension Society. Address by W. A. Spencer, Secretary.

First day—Opening of Conference by communion service. Evening—Anniversary of Conference Educational Society, addresses by Messrs. Bovard, Maclay and Matthews. Anniversary of Home Missionary Society in the afternoon.

Second day—Memorial services in the morning, discussion of ministerial education and anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society in the evening, with address in Chinese to Chinese mission students by Dr. Maclay.

Third day—Sermons and addresses by Rev. Caswell, Cantineo, Robinson, Gillan and others.

Fourth day—Love feast at 9 A. M., led by J. B. Green, sermon by Bishop Bowman at 10:30, and ordination of deacons. Preaching in afternoon and evening.

Further devotional services will be arranged by the committee.

Democratic Rallies.

This evening there will be grand Democratic rallies in this city and at Santa Ana. The rally in this city will take place in front of the Pico House and the meeting will be addressed in Spanish by R. F. Sepulveda, A. Orfila and Robt. Dominguez. At Santa Ana the citizens will be addressed by Hon. Ca vin Edgerton and Major G. W. Arbuckle. It is anticipated that there will be very large gatherings on both occasions. On Tuesday evening rallies will be held at Compton and at Orange. On Wednesday evening at Anaheim and Monrovia. Thursday evening at Monte Vista and San Pedro. Friday evening at Azusa and San Fernando, and Saturday evening of next week at Whittier, La Puente and Santa Monica.

The Knights' Pilgrimage.

On September 8th Cœur de Lion Commandery will start on its annual pilgrimage, and will go to San Diego and Coronado Beach by way of the California Central Railroad. The train which will bear these Knights will leave at 8:30 A. M. from the Santa Fe depot, and will arrive in San Diego at 2 P. M. The Commandery will be under orders from the 8th until the 11th, and will arrive in this city on its return at 12:50 o'clock on the 11th. Each Knight is allowed to invite five gentlemen with their ladies, and none will be permitted to attend without an invitation. A band will be in attendance and a grand time is expected.

He Served Wine.

James Otto, of San Bernardino, was examined yesterday morning before United States Commissioner Van Dyke on a charge of selling liquor to Indians. The defendant keeps a restaurant at San Bernardino, and serves wine with meals, as well as tea and coffee. The Indians who obtained their meals there called for wine and he served them, stating that he did not know it was against the law. He was held to answer in $250 bail.

Save Him from His Friends.

It is a very open question indeed as to whether the wisest application of much of the Republican campaign fund would not have been to hire James G. Blaine to stay in Europe. He has certainly been of very little benefit to his protegé Harrison. That gentleman may excusably be in the mood of exclaiming, "Save me from my friends." None of the speeches the Plumed Knight has made since his return to the United States, have been specially brilliant, while some of them have been damaging to the cause which he assumes to have at heart to a high degree. His speech delivered at Portland, Maine, on the 17th of August, was of itself enough to knock the pins from under Harrison. In that eccentric oratorical effort he antagonized President Cleveland's position on trusts, proclaimed it as his belief that trusts should be let alone, and said that England, a free trade country, was plastered over with them.

The New York Times immediately instructed its London correspondent to inquire into this matter of the existence of trusts in England, with the result that they are practically unknown there. The correspondent showed Blaine's statement to forty representative Englishmen—bankers, solicitors, auditors, and the heads of great iron, cotton, woolen, railroad, mining and other enterprises—and without an exception they flatly denied its truth. They did not even know any English equivalent for the American words "trust" or "combine." The correspondent of the Times next sought official opinion on the matter, with the following result:

But denial of Blaine's assertion need not rest on the general and anonymous evidence of business men selected at random. Unfortunately the Parliamentary recess has taken out of town most of the heads of the government departments dealing with trade statistics, but I was lucky enough to find two officials of recognized knowledge and weight of character. One of these, Alfred Milner, a distinguished Fellow of Oxford and private secretary to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, a position equal in importance and influence to that of First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in America. Mr. Milner said: "The statement that a trust, or anything like a trust, is common in England is absolutely false. I marvel at any man committing himself to an assertion so barefaced and so capable of prompt and complete refutation. There are certain small local enterprises, no doubt, in lines which lend themselves to specialization, where the large producers have from time to time combined against the small ones. I suppose that has been done since the dawn of commerce, but the combinations are in the nature of what you call corners, and will by no means be permanently organized monopolies. I do not know of the existence in England of a single trust, in the American sense of the word, unless it may be this new Cheshire Salt Trust now being mentioned in the papers, and this is not only an evident imitation of the American model, but it will not by any means create a monopoly. But the figures of the income tax give you a better proof of this than any assertion of mine. Here is the return under Schedule D that is limited to the profits of individvals and private firms in England in business for the decade 1877-86. The number of incomes between £150 and £1,000 increased during the decade 19.26 per cent. The number of incomes over £1,000 decreased over 2.40 per cent. This is plain proof of the steadily-growing distribution of the profits of trade and commerce among the small manufacturers and traders. These figures alone would make nonsense of Mr. Blaine's talk."

It is perhaps harsh to suggest of a man of Mr. Blaine's intellectual vigor that he has lost his old force and precision of statement as well as his common sense. But it is apparent that his reputation for continued mental acumen can only be defended on the ground that he is really willing to see Harrison beaten. On no other ground can his maunderings about "free trade England being plastered over with trusts," and his statements about the comparative deposits of the Savings Banks of Old and New England, be explained. He talks like a man who cares not what extravagance he may utter, and he has not yet made a single effective presentation of a campaign issue.

He Would Blow It In—"Figgers."

There is nothing mean or circumscribed about the Hon. Tom Fitch. In his speech at Hazard's Pavilion night before last he got rid of all embarrassments concerning the surplus in a very charming way. He said he "would blow it in." Mr. Fitch in this utterance shows himself to be a man of infinite gizzard and a Republican of the good old days. If the amount that has been "blown in" by the Belknaps, Chandlers, Roaches, Cresswells, Robesons, Leets and Boss Shepherds of the grand old party could be collected in a pile it would go far towards paying off the remainder of the national debt. Like the silver-tongued, they were all men of infinite stomach when it came to "blowing things in." It is a wonder, after their high wassail, that there were any public buildings left about Washington when the Democrats came into power. We doubt very much, however, whether the people favor these magnificent projects. When it comes to spending the money of the nation they are liable to desire to go a little slow. They would far rather see these shekels left in their own pockets, to vivify business and stimulate enterprise, than either stored in the national strong box or squandered on lakes in the Sierras or embankments on the Mississippi.

Mr. Fitch's liberality recalls that of Daniel Webster. Called upon at a banquent to respond to the sentiment, the "National Debt," Black Dan said: "The National Debt. It ought to be paid. How much is it? I'll pay it myself." Nothing could better recall this incident than Mr. Fitch's lavish method of handling a surplus.

Every one knows that this versatile orator is highly successful as a handler of figures of speech. His rhetorical tropes are often quite pyrotechnical in their brilliancy. When it comes to vulgar figures and vulgar fractions, however, Mr. Fitch is by no means so happy. Nothing could be much more absurd than his statement that in many articles of manufactures labor amounts to 99 per cent. of the finished product. A brilliant rhetorician Mr. Fish undoubtedly is, but as a statistician or a political economist he provokes a smile. Without desiring to weary our readers with figures, we will merely say that we have looked over columns of statistics relating to the proportion which labor bears to the finished product and it ranges from seven to twenty-six per cent. Thirteen per cent. would be a high average for labor.

Mr. Fitch is a most agreeable talker. What he lacks in wisdom he often makes up in wit. But it would puzzle a practical man, who really desires to think and vote intelligently on the issues of the day, to find out what good he derives from listening to a man like the silver-tongued orator Fitch, who fills his speeches with such incredibly loose statements as that upon which we have commented.

Reel B. Terry.

The Democratic candidate for Congress from this district is making a most favorable impression upon the voters. He delivered several speeches in San Bernardino county lately which have done good both to the party and his own candidacy. We hear golden words of him from all sides. As San Bernardino is a great canning region Mr. Terry has shown the horticulturists the great profits accruing to them from reductions in tin and other specialties needed in their business and daily life. This young and energetic representative of the Democracy is not allowing the grass to grow under his feet.

THE Republican managers, it would seem, are so anxious to capture the Irish-Catholic vote of New York, that they are ready to enter into any conspiracy looking towards that end. Patrick Ford, of the Irish World is a willing tool in the hands of the Republican Committee, and through his advice and agency the Freeman's Journal, an established Catholic organ, was purchased from the heirs of the late James A. McMasters, and turned into a Harison and Morton boomer. Ford and his Republican friends doubtless thought they had accomplished a great party object in this over-smart transaction, and that in purchasing the Journal, the subscribers of that paper would also be turned over to them bodily. They have awakened, however, to a very disagreeable fact. The subscribers have left them almost en masse and gone over to the American Catholic News, a paper that is carried on in line with the principles which actuated the Journal when it was edited by McMasters. Ford and his Republican friends are now chewing the cud of bitter disappointment over the result of a transaction which, under any circumstances, would have seemed, to sensible men, doomed to failure.

Dunsmoor and Parcels.

It is generally very airily assumed that Mr. Charles H. Dunsmoor, the present County Clerk of Los Angeles county, is a specially strong candidate, and that he will even exceed his party vote. Those who talk this way will awaken to their error the day the vote is counted. All Democrats and a great many Republicans have a deep detestation of the part played by Mr. Dunsmoor in the last election. He used his official position to disfranchise one hundred and ninety-four Democrats, after having promised Lieutenant-Governor White and others to put them on the Great Register. Any man who would knowingly aim to disfranchise an American citizen is unworthy to hold any office. How much more unworthy is he who uses his official position to defraud his fellow citizen of this highest civic distinction? Thousands of Republicans condemn such indefensible conduct as freely as do their Democratic neighbors. The idea that any Democrat could vote for Dunsmoor is too absurd to be seriously entertained. More especially is this the case when the marked excellence and fitness of his opponent, Mr. H. S. Parcels, are borne in mind. Mr. Dunsmoor is in truth a very weak candidate, while Mr. Parcels is a very strong one. We are not disposed to deny that the Republican County Clerk has some agreeable personal peculiarities, but when a man flagrantly wrongs his fellow citizens, prostituting his official position to that end, he ought to be rebuked at the polls, and with a vehemence and emphasis that will serve to deter from such wrong doing in the future.

THE clear outgiving in yesterday's HERALD has probably removed all remaining doubt as to the purposes of Gen. Hewitt, the Democratic candidate for County Treasurer, if he should be elected. The county funds will be distributed amongst the leading financial institutions of Los Angeles, city and county, under circumstances that will protect the public interests. This timely declaration of Gen. Hewitt's, added to his splendid record for business efficiency, his personal integrity and unquestioned personal popularity, sets at rest the doubts which any reasonable person may have entertained as to his election. It enables the personal preference which exists so largely in this county for this sterling citizen and Democrat to find an unencumbered expression.

THERE is a great parade about the Irish-American Republican Club of Los Angeles, but it is a case of a great cry and very little wool. Our Irish-American fellow-citizens are not very likely to vote or work for a man who, when asked to recognize the fact that Sheridan, Corcoran and others of Irish blood had done much to save the Union, replied that the penitentiaries were full of Irishmen and that they were only fit to shovel sand. This General Harrison said in a public meeting, and it can be so established on unimpeachable authority.

HON. HOOLEY HOGAN is pictorial in his oratory. Last night in his speech he likened the Democratic party to a kite, with Cleveland as the kite and the Irish Democrats as the tail. He said that the tail was about to let go, and wanted to know then what would become of the kite? The only Irishmen who have let go are Hogan, Dorney, Follis, Wray, Creigh, Bates and O'Shea, and they are such light weights that they never will be missed. The real concern, however, ought to be as to Hogan et al. If they light in the right place there will not be a buttock left of them.

FROM every portion of Los Angeles county—from the county line, north, south, east and west—comes intelligence of the great strength of the Democratic County ticket. It is strong as a whole and specially strong in parts. There is the same universal concession of the weakness of the Republican nominees. The latter are so weak that all the efforts of the three Republican dailies fail to buttress them in a standing position. The Republican ticket is positively so limp that it gives in every direction.

WHILE the Republican press are very eloquent upon the rights of the laboring man it is well to bear in mind the fact that President Cleveland is the only American Executive who ever sent to Congress a message outlining sympathy with the labor interests. This Mr. Cleveland did in the winter of 1887. He is in this respect in marked contrast with the attitude and the utterances of his opponent, who has a most embarrassing record in such matters.

WORD reaches us from the Southern portion of Los Angeles county which tends to establish the great popularity and strength there of Mr. H. S. Parcels, the Democratic candidate for County Clerk. From Santa Ana and the adjoining country Victor Montgomery, Esq., the Democratic candidate for Senator, we learn, is making great headway against McComas. The Democracy will register large gains from and including Anaheim to the San Diego line.

HON. TOM FITCH gave striking expression to the Republican idea of how to deal with the surplus, when he said he would "blow it in." The people, however, from whose sweat this vast surplus has been coined, will have something to say about this summary, and profligate solution of the difficulty. Perhaps they will decree that it shall be "blown out" into their own pockets, by a reduction of the present enormous tariff taxes.

HENRY R. SMITH, of San Francisco, Cal., died some years ago and left a most peculiar will. He bequeathed his property to his widow, stipulating that she should educate their son as a lawyer and have him taught the Chinese language. Mrs. Smith has faithfully carried out these provisions, and her son, who is now of age, can talk American law to a Celestial without effort.

WASHINGTON.

An Inquiry Into the Cotton Bagging Trust.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate Finance Committee Sweat Over the Proposed Tariff Bill. Capital Cullings.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Anderson Gratz, of St. Louis, was called as the first witness before the commission on Manufactures to-day in the inquiry as to the alleged cotton bagging trusts. He said the variation in the prices of two-pound bagging from 1877 to 1887 had been from 10¾ cents per yard in 1877, to 11½ cents in 1880, and 7¼ in 1887. The price of Jute butts had been lower this August than any August price for the last ten years. The price of cotton bagging during August varied from 11 to 12½ cents per yard.

A number of contracts between witness' firm, as agents, and other cotton bagging firms in the United States were produced with the view of showing the steps taken by cotton bagging manufacturing firms to control production and provide for its sale at stipulated prices. The object of the agreement was to enable the parties to it to obtain and maintain control of the cotton bagging produced in this country for the present season. The trust has secured control of about two-thirds of the bagging in the country, the remaining third, about fifteen million yards, being produced by persons who are not in any way connected with the trust.

The contract shows that the agreement is between the firms of Waterbury & Co., of New York City, the party of the first part, and the Charles Bagging Manufacturing Company, Nevins & Co., of Boston, the New York Bagging Company, Eagle Mills, Southern Mills Bagging Company, Standard Mills Bagging Company, Luncie Bagging Manufacturing Company, the parties of the second part. The parties of the second part have agreed to sell and deliver to L. Waterbury & Co. all the bagging they had on hand when the contract was made, and such as might thereafter be acquired or manufactured by them during the year. Waterbury & Co. act as the center of correspondence through which the increase and reduction in price is brought about. It is agreed that the profits and losses shall be shared in proportion. The sale and prices of cotton bagging are determined by a majority of the members of the second part.

The agreement took effect April 16th, last. Since then two of the mills, signing the agreement, have failed to start, and probably a dozen or more outside of the trust have closed down previous to and since the agreement was culminated. The first set price of cotton bagging was made in New York, by the trust about the middle of July, at the proposition of the witness. Nine and a half cents was then fixed as the price. On January 1st the productive capacity of Warren Jones and Gratz in conjunction with several firms which they represented, was two-thirds of all the productive capacity of the South, but they actually produced seven-eighths of all that produced in the South.

Since the price fixed in July, the members of the trust had advanced the price of cotton bagging to ten cents a yard. The present price of cotton bagging in this country is three cents higher than that at which the foreign manufactured product can be brought here, inclusive of freight charges. This was due to the fact that the production of material in this country was confined to a few firms. Probably 60 per cent. of the bagging was in the hands of retail dealers, and the other 40 per cent. in the hands of the manufacturers.

If the duty on bagging and jute was left and jute was left unchanged, witness thought the trust would go out of existence, and if those articles were admitted free the firms would run a corner every other year. The needs of the planter was absolute and imperative, and he must have bagging, no matter at what cost. During the last three or four years there was little bagging imported, the domestic supply being equal to the demand.

Charles A. Pearse, of St. Louis, Secretary of the Standard Bagging Company, one of the concerns embraced in the trust, assented generally to the testimony given by Gratz, and the Commission adjourned till to-morrow.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Civil Service Reform—The Pot Calls the Kettle Black.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—In the Senate to-day the House joint resolution to extend until September 15th the joint resolution of July 31st to provide temporarily for the expenses of the Government, was reported ard passed.

The resolution offered yesterday by Cullom concerning the transit, in bond without payment of duty, of goods from Canada, contrary to law, was considered and after a short debate went over.

Vest criticised some of the statements made yesterday by Cullom, particularly as to the violation of the Civil Service form in the Chicago postoffice. The statement was that Postmaster Judd allowed postoffice employees to be taxed for Democratic campaign expenses by Mr. Esher, Judd's law partner. If Judd, said Vest, had thus through his law partner emulated the example the Republican party had set for many years, he ought to be put out of office and to receive the condemnation of every honest man.

As a counter poise to that charge, Vest sent to the Clerk's desk and had read several letters from Cullom to Mr. Dudley when the latter was Commissioner of Pensions, asking leave of absence, with the pay of a pension examiner, to make political speeches in Illinois.

Cullom admitted having written such letters, but he based his action on the ground that Government employees were entitled to thirty days' leave with pay.

Hale pointed Vest to a "modern instance" of the violation of the Civil Service Reform laws, and sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a Washington dispatch in the New York Tribune, stating that John M. Trainor, who is in charge of the document room of the Democratic National Committee in New York, is an official of the Interior Department with a salary of $1800.

Hale recommended Vest to make a pilgrimage to the Interior Department and have the Secretary lay his strong hand on Trainor and either bring him home or remove him.

Hoar—Or promote him.

Senate resumed consideration of the Fortification bill and after one amendment had been adopted the bill was passed.

A conference of the disagreeing votes was ordered, and Senators Dawes, Plumb and Gorman were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

Stewart asked unanimus consent for the bill for the admission of Washington Territory to be taken up on Monday, at 2 o'clock, and continued until disposed of. Riddleberger objected. Stewart gave notice that as the bill is now unfinished business he would after 2 o'clock on Monday insist upon its consideration.

The House joint resolution to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to set aside certain lands in the State of Kansas, for the benefit of agriculture and mechanical arts, was passed. Adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

The House on assembling proceeded to consideration of the Conference report on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

After some opposition to the report by Cobb, of Alabama, on account of agreement to the Senate amendment appropriating $40,000 to pay certain Miami and Peoria Indians, the report was agreed to. The House then proceeded to consider the amendments upon which an agreement had not been reached in conference. The remainder of the day was devoted to a discussion of the amendment relative to the Congressional Library building, during which the extravagance of the scheme to which Congress had committed itself was considered and fully commented upon. The House insisted upon its disagreement to the Senate amendment. Pending action on the other amendments on which agreement had been reached, the House took a recess to 8 o'clock.

At the evening session Mr. Bingham, of Pennsylvania, called up the bill granting a pension of $3,500 per annum to the widow of the late General Philip H. Sheridan. Cheadle, of Indiana, objected and Bingham withdrew the bill and it was allowed to retain its place on the calendar. Twenty-seven private pension bills were passed and at 10:30 the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON WAIFS.

The Senate's Busy Finance Committee—Notes.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Senator Allison, Chairman of the Sub-Committee of the Senate Committee on Finance, having in charge the preparation of the Tariff bill, gives notice in accordance with the understanding reached at last night's conference, that parties who wish a hearing before the Committee must make their appearance in ten days. Hearings by the Committee began May 26th, last, and have been continued almost every day since. Several hundred interested parties have been heard, including many delegations of workingmen, and information has been sought from every possible source. The evidence has been stenographically reported and printed from day to day for the information of any who cared to examine it. The next ten days, it is expected, will be a busy time, since, in addition to hearing evidence, the Sub-Committee will have to complete its elaborate report on the bill.

BILL TO RESTRICT EPIDEMIC DISEASES.

Senator Harris, from the Committee on Epidemic Diseases, reported to-day the substitute bill prepared by the Treasury Department to prevent the introduction of diseases from one State to another. It authorizes the President to cause the Secretary of the Treasury to make and promulgate such rules and regulations as in his judgment may be necessary to prevent the spread from one State or Territory to another of cholera, yellow fever, smallpox or plague, and to employ as many inspectors and other persons as may be necessary to carry the regulations into effect. It is made a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment, to violate the regular orders.

SUNDRY AMENDMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

Senator Manderson to-day reported favorable, with amendments, from the Military Committee, the bill introduced by Senator Sawyer to give to soldiers who served ninety days, or more, and were discharged on account of disease contracted in the line of duty, the same bounty to which they would be entitled if discharged for wounds.

Senator Farwell to-day offered an amendment to the law relating to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods, the effect and intention of which is to permit an importer in the interior to ship a portion instead of the whole of an importation to an interior place of destination, and pay the duty on the remainder at New York, without providing separate invoices and bills of lading.

PATENT OFFICE BUSINESS FALLING OFF.

B. J. Hall, Commissioner of Patents, in his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, says: The total number of applications received during the year was 40,177, a decrease of 847. The number of patents granted and trade marks and labels registered was 22,101, as against 23,217 for last year. The total receipts for the year were 1,122,944, a decrease of $27,914. The expenditures were $953,730, a decrease of $27,914, the surplus being $169,264. On June 30th last there were 7,227 cases on hand awaiting action, as against 7,601 on June 30, 1887.

HABEAS CORPUS COURTS UNDER CONTROL.

Assistant Secretary Maynard has written S. D. Lucas, of Fort Madison, Ia., in reply to a letter from him, informing him that the Treasury Department is endeavoring with all the means at its disposal to carry out the requirements of the Chinese Restriction act so as to prevent the introduction of Chinese labor in the United States, adding that the Department has now control over the action of the United States courts which have allowed Chinese laborers to enter the United States under writs of habeas corpus.

CROW CREEK COUNCIL.

Seductive Arguments Held Out to the Red Man.

ST. PAUL, August 31.—A Crow Creek agency special says: The council yesterday was called to order at 11:30. After prayer, Major Anderson thanked the Indians for the cordial manner in which they had received the representatives of the great father. He reviewed the entire history of the Crow Creeks and Winnebago reservations. He stated that the Indians on these reservations had always expressed a desire to be separated from the rest of the Sioux Nation, and the present bill afforded them an opportunity to do so. He charged in forcible terms that certain ones were opposing the bill were doing so from selfish motives; that they were opposing the best interests of the Indians, and should not be listened to. This created a sensation and was heartily endorsed by many.

Judge Wright then addressed the Indians. He cited the fact that the great father had spent double the amount on the Sioux since 1868 than was paid for the immense tract lying between the Mississippi river and the Pacific ocean and between Canada and the Gulf of Mexico, which was purchased from France many years ago; that the Government had at all times cared for the Indians and should now be heeded.

CAMPAIGN GOSSIP.

A Reception to Harrison at Put-in-Bay

BLAINE "BUSTS" ON TRUSTS.

Ben Butler's Cross-Eyed View of the Fisheries and Tariff Questions.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

TOLEDO, O., August 31.—It is understood that General Harrison has spent some of his leisure time at Middle Bass in preparing his letter of acceptance, and it is believed by his friends that he intends to make it public as soon as he returns to Indianapolis. Early lunch was served to-day at the Middle Bass Clubhouse, after which General Harrison and his friends crossed to Put-in-Bay to attend a formal reception.

AT PUT-IN-BAY.

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio, August 31.—This was a memorable day for the five hundred residents of Put-in-Bay Island. Early in the morning the islanders began to make preparation for the reception and entertainment of their guest, Gen. Harrison, and his party. Banners were flying to the breeze, flags raised and houses and cottages draped in honor of the expected guest. By 10 o'clock the residents of the neighboring islands began to arrive, dressed in holiday attire, and their little yachts sailed into the historic bay. They were welcomed by the residents and and others, for an excursion boat from Toledo brought about 400 excursionists. A steamer from Cleveland and another from Detroit brought a large number of people. The yacht Ganges with General Harrison on board arrived at 2 P. M. The General was accompanied by ex-Governor Foster, Judge Cummings and other friends. The party was escorted to the pavilion, and John Brown, Jr., arose and announced that Governor Foster would act as Master of Ceremonies. Governor Foster made a few remarks and introduced General Harrison, who made a felicitous little speech.

At the conclusion of the General's address he took a position on the steps of the pavilion, and Governor Foster announced that all who wished to meet General Harrison personally could have the opportunity. The crowd passed before the General, shaking his hand vigorously. General Harrison and party returned to Middle Bass early in the evening.

"TRUSTY" BLAINE.

He Again Tries to Eliminate Trusts from the Campaign.

DOVER, Me., August 31.—Hon. James G. Blaine spoke at Foxcroft this afternoon. In opening he proceeded at once to the consideration of trusts, charging that they flourished to a greater extent under the free trade policy of England than under the protective policy of the United States. He said the President should have known when he arraigned trusts in his message to Congress that Congress could not dissolve them when their charters were from the State Legislatures or their organizations under State laws. It had been confessed by the Democratic House Ways and Means Committee by Chairman Mills and every man that stood as an advocate of free trade, that trusts had no possible legal connection with the tariff. The President's charge that trusts had their origin in the protective tariff had not a foot of ground to stand on, and was contradicted in every line of free trade experience the speaker had quoted from England. Trusts have no place in the National campaign; they are State issues. The Republicans of Maine, at least, can be depended upon to look after those in their own State.

STRABISMIC POLITICS.

Ben Butler Squints at the Fisheries and Free Trade.

BOSTON, August 31.—General Benjamin F. Butler this evening addressed a large audience in Tremont Temple upon the tariff and fisheries questions. He said: Theoretically free trade between all nations, as between men, is correct in principle—that is if all nations in all things were exactly on the same footing; but such conditions cannot exist among nations, and therefore all theories upon the question of free trade becomes useless. I cite the President on my side, as against free trade, but I must confess at the same time that the President seems to get as near being free trade as he can. I believe if he had known, as I know, how much a protecttve tariff has done for the American workingman, his tariff message would never have been penned. It is not his fault, but the laboringman's misfortune that he did not know the facts.

The speaker declared his opinion that during the late war we owed to the effects of the protective tariff the means which upheld the unity of our people, the consolidation of our Government, the glory of our achievements and the military power of our country, and added: Is is not a matter of remark that the attempted destruction of our protective system comes from those who did not defend the life of the country in that war, and the majority of whom mourn the cause which the protective tariff caused to be lost to them.

General Butler attacked the Mills bill and then turned his attention to the Fisheries question. Touching upon the various treaties that had been in force between the United States and Great Britain, he said: I agree with the President that the bill giving him the power of retaliation was a poor bill, unworthy of the dignity of the United States Government, and if he vetoed it on that ground I would have been quite inclined to support him. My criticism of the bill is that it contains no enactment in regard to keeping vessels and goods of the British dominion in North America at our ports. When we learn that in these North American British possessions our vessels are kept out of port, pray why don't you take the bull by the horns and give the President the power and right, whenever he finds that a single vessel, however small, is kept out of any British port or anywhere unlawlully, to keep out of the ports of the United States every British vessel, however great, until that wrong shall be righted. Retaliate the wrongs done to our fishermen by the Canadians by action against the Cunard steamship sailing under the ensign of the British government, and the thing will be brought to an end. The first question that springs to the lip is, is the President in earnest? If the answer is yes, let him enforce retaliation by the power he has had since March, 1887. If he will do that he will show that his paper is the message of a statesman and not of a campaigner on the stump.

A Waterspout Bursts Over Hot Springs.

TERRIBLE SCENE OF DISASTER.

China Refuses to Ratify the Treaty With the United States. Eastern Echoes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., August 31.—A Gazette Hot Springs, Ark., special says: To-day is an epoch in the history of Hot Springs. There is nothing but gutted ruin and wreck to meet the vision everywhere, and nothing like it has ever been known to compare with the results of last night's storm, which occurred in the night too late to be telegraphed. It was a waterspout and the valley was swept with a mighty tidal wave. The loss to property is fearful, while the sacrifice of human life is appalling. Swift and terrible was the visitation; without warning the people were awakened from slumber to find themselves threatened with destruction by the mad waves. Strange to state few people were conscious of the horrible disaster till they awoke to look upon the desolate scenes this morning and drag the drowned from the drifts of debris. The storm struck the town about 11 last night, from a northwesterly direction. It was accompanied by stiff, cool winds, though not strong enough to produce damage. Rain fell in torrents from 11 to 1 o'clock without intermission or cessation; indeed those who were up and witnessed the awful scene describe it as one never before seen by them. The vivid flashes of lightning displayed a sight as if there were great sheets of falling water. At the close of the storm, great and ominous sounds, mingled with the shouts of people and cries of distress, went up from the valley, and such citizens as were in the vicinity of the creek and ravines went forth to render assistance. The flood on Central avenue, the principal thoroughfare, seemed an angry river, and was rushing with everything movable on its bosom. For over half an hour the avenue was transformed into a torrent fifty yards wide. Boxes and parts of houses came down on the tide and were left strewn on the sidewalks. Several large hotels were flooded to the depth of four feet with murky waters. Many buildings were totally wrecked. Up to this hour six persons are known to be missing, five of whom have been found in a wrecked building. The damage to property is estimated at $100,000.

LATER.

George W. Bean, of Lancaster, Pa., and C. H. Coolidge, of Cincinnati, visitors, have just arrived here from the Hot Springs and say that the desolation is beyond description. They say thirteen people were drowned; nine bodies have been recovered, and inquests have been held on four. The lost are mostly colored people. Owing to the despair and confusion they could not learn the names of the drowned or the amount of damage done. The telegraph wires are closed, and it is impossible to get further particulars.

RACING RESULTS.

Bicycle Race at Oakland Park. Turf Events.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The attraction at Oakland Park to-day was the bicycle race, two miles, for trophies valued at $200. Entries: W. G. Davis, San Francisco Bicycle Club, scratch; A. S. Ireland, Alameda, 50 yards handicap; R. W. Turner, Bay City Wheelmen, 50 yards; Charles B. Fonda, San Francisco Bicycle Club, eighty yards; R. A. Smythe, Bay City Wheelmen, 100 yards; Louis Sears, Oakland, 110 yards; Chas. Townsend, Oakland, 120 yards; A. M. Brown, Alameda, 120 yards. Sears led at the start; Davis overcame his handicap at one-eighth of a mile and pushed Ireland for first place; the latter won, however, by two feet; Turner third. Time 6:20½.

Three-quarters of a mile—King Crab won, Tattler second, Balstone third; time 1:15.

SALT LAKE REGATTA.

SALT LAKE, Utah, August 31.—At the regatta at Garfield Beach to-day the greatest crowd ever seen on Salt Lake assembled. Fully 6,000 attended, and business was generally suspended.

This afternoon the Delawares won the double scull race in 11:31; Modocs second, 11:50; Farraguts third, 11:53; Sylvans distanced.

Corbett, of the Farraguts, won the single scull race in 12:07; Gastrich, of the Modocs, second, in 12:26; Fleming, of the Sylvans, third in 12:30. Korf, of the Delawares, did not row, because he broke his boat.

The Modocs won the four-oared race in 9:52, Farraguts second in 10:02, Sylvans third in 10:03. The water was rough and there was a stiff breeze. The crews have consented to an extra day, and will row again at Garfield to-morrow.

Baseball.

DETROIT, August 17.—The Detroit-Pittsburg game was postponed on account of rain.

What's in a Name.

BERLIN, August 31.—The infant son of Emperor William was baptized to-day. He was christened Oscar Karl Gustav Adolph.

China Refuses to Ratify.

LONDON, August 31.—China refuses to ratify the American treaty restricting immigration.

Eastern Echoes.

At Jacksonville the yellow fever epidemic is in full sway in every part of the city. There were twenty-three new cases and four deaths during Friday.

A telegram from Fairchild, Wis., says: W. C. Foster's mammoth sawmill was destroyed by fire Friday morning. Loss, $80,000; insured for $50,000.

On Tuesday two revenue officers went to Sand Beach, Mich., and arrested Captain Harry Durant of the schooner Emma, and brought him to Port Huron to answer the charge of smuggling opium.

Great excitement exists among all classes at Howard, Dak., brought about by the finding of gold dust, thickly mixed with sand thrown from an excavation which some workmen were digging for well purposes. Old miners were soon on the spot, and pronounced the find very promising. From a quality obtained an essay was made, valuing the quality at $18 per ounce.

Protection to Workingmen.

In this week's issue of The Journal of United Labor General Master Workman Powderly, in a lengthy article on the tariff, says that the canvass will be made on the tariff issue: "I am a protectionist; if I were otherwise I would not belong to a labor organization." Owing to the number of members who believe in high tariff and others who believe in tariff reduction Mr. Powderly thinks it would be suicidal to commit the order to either school.

Even though the tariff question may be settled at the coming election, Mr. Powderly is of the opinion that the workingmen will need any amount of protection from trusts and monopolies. There is no Knight of Labor tickets in the field, he continues, and he therefore, advises workingmen to hear both sides of the tariff issue, and then decide how to vote.

In a postscript to the article Mr. Powderly says that it was submitted to the General Executive Board and that it was unanimously approved.

The bi-monthly meeting of the General Executive Board is confining itself to Routine matters. It is likely to adjourn on Saturday.

T. B. McGuire was present for the first time yesterday. He has been through New York and the East. "I never saw such political enthuaiasm before in all my experience," he said. "Everywhere one goes the people are either yelling for Protection or screeching for Free Trade. The politics vary only by localities. We have nothing to do with politics, but as far as I am concerned I believe that the only tariff for the workingmen is organization, first, last and always. In my travels I have discovered that sewing women need protection from the comparatively harmless farmer's wife. So perfect is the system of sending goods throughout the country to be made up into shirts, at a ridiculously small recompense, that the poor girl in the city factories are driven into penury or dishonor."—[New York News.

A short, vigorous fight, on broad issues which the people can understand, is the best one for the country and the Democracy. The two parties have put forward thoroughly representative champions in the field. Republicanism has no truer representative than James G. Blaine, rich through politics, tattooed with jobs, the special advocates of monopolies and of trusts, and Allen G. Thurman, who made himself in the Senate the special advocate of the people, truly represents Democracy. It is Republican against Democrat, Blaine against Thurman, monopoly against the people.—[N. O. Times-Democrat.

A Republican organ speaks of the Democratic policy of stopping a demoralizing treasury surplus by abating the war taxes on the necessities of the people as one "which a disloyal sentiment would force upon Americans for the benefit of foreigners." Nothing less than three rolling R's can do justice to this idiocy: R-rats! R-rot! and R-rhodomontade.—[New York Word, (Dem.)

"The appeal lies to the American laborer," said Mr. Blaine in his "keynote" speech. Well, we guess that is so. The Republican appeal lies to the American laborer at a rate that would make even the Father of Lies blush.—[Boston Globe, (Dem.)

OUR INFANT (INDUSTRIES) AMUSEMENTS, IN POLITICS.

New Rates to Go Into Effect.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The Sunset Route will put into effect to-morrow a new rate schedule for New York business, quoting substantially the same rates as those in the proposed commodity tariff of the Transcontinental Association. New commodity rates from interior points in the East will go into effect to-morrow, along with the other association tariffs, and all passenger rate-cutting will cease to-morrow by agreement of the agents.

The Graham Case.

SANTA CRUZ, August 31.—In the Superior Court to-day District Attorney Jetter moved that the case of Jesse Graham, held for the murder of Joseph Bennett, thirty-eight years ago, be dismissed on the ground that it will be impossible to convict the defendant, owing to the lapse of time between the crime and the trial. The Court took the matter under advisement.

The Queen Again Seaworthy.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The Queen of the Pacific will make a trial trip next Sunday prior to her departure for San Diego. Lieutenant-Commander Hollis, of the Navy, has examined the steamer with a view of ascertaining whether she can be used as a cruiser in case of war. He will report to the Navy Department.

The "Illustrated Herald" Abroad.

Dr. Charles R. R. Cullen, of Richmond, Va., who was a resident of Los Angeles some thirty odd years ago, when it was but a Spanish-American village, thus acknowledges the receipt of the current number of tha ILLUSTRATED HERALD, which shows at a glance the contrast between the Los Angeles of 1857 and of 1888:

"Your esteemed favor the Los Angeles ILLUSTRATED HERALD has been read with a great deal of satisfaction. It is wonderland—surpassing the tales of ancient story-tellers. Would like to see the country again, but as I am too old, must be satisfied with the reading of the Western wonders. * * *"

Raid on the Chinese.

A raid was made early yesterday evening on the Chinese gamblers. A fan-tan game on Marchassault street was pounced down upon by Officers Bowland and Fowle and the dealer and six players were secured. The instant the officers leaped in at the windows the cloth which covered the table was thrown over the chips and implements and the whole bundle whisked out of sight before it could be seized. Half a dozen of the players got away, and on the way to the station one of them cut his cue, but was captured again.

Truckmen's Organization.

The truck and transfer companies of this city have effected an organization and have fixed a schedule of prices for all and every kind of hauling which goes into effect to-day, September 1st. Every truck company and truckman have pledged themselves and filed a bond with the organization to abide by the schedule of prices, and upon breaking the same he forfeits his bond of $1000. Each and every truckman will notify his customers of what has taken place and will present them with a printed schedule of rates for all hauling, gotten up alphabetically.

Criminal Notes.

The charge of disturbing the peace against W. W. Wilson came up in Justice Austin's court yesterday and was dismissed.

Justice King has put the work of obtaining juries for his Court on the Sheriff's office, as he is disatisfied with the sort of empaneling which the Constables do.

Yesterday morning when one of the employees of the Metropolitan Stables, who had been out on a spree the night before, woke up he found that his false teeth had disappeared.

The Patterson-Rogers feud came up again in Justice King's Court yesterday, and was continued until 10 o'clock this morning, by reason of the absence of the remaining witness to the affair, the milkman.

The Walter S. Moore malicious mischief case came up again in Justice King's court yesterday and was continued to September 26th. This makes the fourth time this case has been continued.

A warrant was sworn out in Justice Austin's court yesterday for the arrest of George Gridley on the charge of cruelty to animals. It is charged that he beat a horse belonging to P. L. Budinger, of 12 East Fourth street.

Mamie Abbott was tried before a jury in Judge Taney's Court yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace and was found guilty. The jury took pains to recommend her to the mercy of the court. She will be sentenced to-day.

William Schole and John Thompson got into a fight yesterday afternoon in the latter's saloon. There was some dispute about paying for a drink. Schole was badly cut about the face. Officer Fitch brought them both to the station.

Several firms who sell furniture on the instalment plan have been on the lookout of late for a negro man who had worked them successfully. His scheme was to get goods delivered for a small deposit and then move away before the remainder of what was due could be collected. Thursday evening Detective McCarthy arrested J. J. Bromzley, who is said to be the man, at a colored ball and sociable at Opera Hall in the Opera House building, and yesterday he was placed on the books as "suspected."

AMUSEMENTS.

"Love, Courtship and Marriage" by Mrs. Longshore-Potts.

"Love, Courtship and Marriage" is the very attractive title of the last lecture of the course to be delivered by Mrs. Dr. Potts at the Grand Opera House this evening. This eminent little woman has handled graver and more sombre subjects with such grace and tact that it is easy to imagine how charmingly she will treat the social sciences. It appeals by virture of its name, to the finer feelings and sensibilities of bachelor and benedict, maid and matron. This lecture has done more to establish the fame of Mrs. Potts than any of the series. It has been justly termed a "beautiful literary mosaic." Her last lecture to the ladies takes place this afternoon, and "Love, Courtship and Marriage" this evening closes a most delightful engagement.

Next Week.

Mr. Thompson is as busy as a nailer getting things ready for his attraction Rags, the Wild Cat, which will be put on at the Grand on next Monday evening. It is a musical comedy of much merit, and the cast is reported to be good.

The Silbons and Dales.

To-morrow evening the boards of the Academy of Music will be occupied by one of the best variety companies that ever visited the city. Those who have witnessed the wonderful aerial performances of the Silbons, and the remarkable essays of the Dales, say that they are beyond doubt the most inimitable feats in their line in the world. The company has been playing to a ninety-six night engagement at the Orpheum, San Francisco, and this is a sufficient indication that the entertainment is a good one.

A Musical Feast.

A grand piano recital is to be given at Bartlett's music hall this afternoon at 3:30 by Mr. William Puitti, the celebrated musician. The programme is an excellent one, consisting of selections from Brahme, Beethoven, Chopin, Roff and Liszt, and Mr. Puitti will also present some of his own compositions. A musical treat is anticipated by the dilettante and a large attendance is certain.

The Turn-Bezirk.

To-day the Turn-Bezirk of Southern California will assemble in Turner Hall To-day and to-morrow the Turners and their friends will make things pleasant in their own excellent way.

The Circus.

A very large number of people witnessed the performance of the Robinson & Heikes circus last night. Every feature of the performance was well received. The show will remain here a few days longer on the new lot corner Fourth and Los Angeles streets. Matinee to-day to 2 P. M., for ladies and children. This is a good show—just the place to spend a pleasant evening.

THE CABLE SYSTEM.

What Work Has Already Been Done in the City.

As fast as any considerable section of the new cable system is completed the street-cars running over the same route are transferred to its tracks and the old metal torn up. That no time is being lost in completing this great piece of work is evident by the amount that has already been finished.

One track is completed, with the exception of the curves, from Seventh street and Grand avenue to Fort and First, and the other track over the same route has nearly reached Fort and First.

Both tracks, with the exception of the curves, are completed from First and Spring to College street, on Upper Main.

Both tracks, with the exception of curves, are completed from Chicago street, on First, nearly to the First street bridge.

The excavation for the Engine house at Downey avenue and Workman street is completed and the excavation for a similar purpose on Seventh street and Grand avenue will be finished by Monday night.

The runaways to take up cars at Seventh and Grand avenue are completed and all of the roadbed is graded.

All of the machinery for power and transmission is contracted for and is to be delivered within one hundred and twenty days from the 28th of June last. In the meantime work will be pushed along steadily and it is deemed probable that by the 1st of January, when the new bridges are constructed, the cable cars will be across and the entire system in operation.

NEWS MISCELLANY.

An Unrepentant Murderer on the Gallows.

THE CANADIANS WEAKENING.

Yellow Fever Refugees—Deep Water Convention Adjourns—The Latest Trust.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., August 31.—George W. Cox was hanged here to-day for the murder of his son-in-law, Henry G. Cook, last November. The condemned man was taken from his cell at 10:35, and when he reached the scaffold he took a seat and asked if the rope and knot were all right; he was then placed on the trap and the straps adjusted, during which operation he trembled violently. As the rope was being placed around his neck he exclaimed, "Boys, I am not sorry for anything I have done." The cap was then adjusted and the drop fell. The rope cut the carotid artery, which caused a sound like escaping stream. Ten minutes later the body was cut down and placed in a coffin. On examination the doctors found that the neck was dislocated, and that the rope had cut all but the cervical muscles. The condemned man died without a struggle.

TIRED OF THROAT-CUTTING.

Pacific Steamship Companies Restore Their Old Rates.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The three steamship lines which have been struggling for the China trade have formed a pool on flour rates. This morning their agents notified shippers that hereafter the schedule rate will be $7 a ton to China. The agreement, which has been entered into by the Pacific Mail, Occidental and Oriental and Canadian Pacific companies, is the result of a conference between Traffic Manager Rice, of the old lines, and the agents of the Pacific Company. Mr. Rice said this morning:

During the last few months the Pacific Mail, Occidental and Oriental and Canadian Pacific companies have been cutting one another's throats; freights have been ridiculously low on outward-bound cargoes. Flour has been carried about 6,000 miles for $2.50 a ton, and on every item the rates have been forced away down below what they should be legitimately. At the same time the Chinese steerage passage was marked down so that there was actually no profit in carrying Chinese, although that used to be one of the most lucrative items in the business. The Pacific Mail and Occidental and Oriental lines, on one side, and the Canadian Pacific on the other, became weary of this kind of business. There was no money in it, and so some days ago there was a conference. We have all agreed to put up the flour rate to $7 a ton. When it was $2.50 a ton it was no better than ballast, but at $7 there is a reasonable profit in handling it."

"Are any other rates affected?"

"Not as yet," said Mr. Rice. Flour is the principal article of export to China, and naturally it would be the first article to receive attention."

STAYED IN THEIR FLIGHT.

Restrictions Placed on Refugees From Florida.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Surgeon-General Hamilton has received the following telegram from J. J. Daniel, President of the Jacksonville Citizens Auxiliary Committee:

In the name of our people and humanity, I protest against the order for the detention of all refugees from our city and State at the refugee camp. It would be better for us to keep our women and children here, rather than subject them to such treatment.

Dr. Hamilton sent the following reply:

Your requisition for 200 tents was approved. You are mistaken as to the character of the camp which is in charge of one of the most humane officers of the service, and none in the country stand higher as to professional ability. The camp is located in one of the healthiest places in Florida, pine woods on the river bluff, originally intended by the railroad as picnic grounds, and taken by Dr. Guiteras as the best place for his camp. He was some days ago directed to have some tents set apart a quarter of a mile distance from the main camp for the occupation of persons sick. Pollard, returned to Jacksonville, was sick on his arrival at camp. He evidently had fever when he left Jacksonville. With the general spread of the disease in Jacksonville, it is useless to expect that persons should be allowed to mingle with other passengers on outgoing trains. A special excursion train will be provided for passengers to definite points. Murphy, in North Carolina, has opened its doors, the only place reporting itself. If residents wish to go to Murphy or any definite points in Western North Carolina, on their parole not to go to the seaboard or quarantined towns within ten days from the date of departure from Jacksonville they can do so. Excursions will be provided as soon as the number of trains required can be ascertained. Please estimate the number of people now in Jacksonville willing to go on parole, that safe arrangements can be made for their transportation.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., August 31.—Official report for the eighteen hours at noon: New cases, 8; deaths, 1; total cases, 196; total deaths, 27. Weather, cool and cloudy; local rains.

THE CANUCKS.

Cleveland's Message Bringing Them to Time.

TORONTO, August 31.—It is believed that at to-morrow's Cabinet meeting the privileges of purchasing and transshipping cargoes in Canadian ports will be granted American fishing vessels, and that the canals will be made free to the vessels of both countries in order to avoid the threatened retaliation.

MANITOBA RAILROADS.

WINNIPEG, August 31.—The Government last night ratified the agreement with the Northern Pacific Railroad on a vote of 27 to 10, five supporters of the Government being among the minority. The Northern Pacific will push the work with all possible speed.

W. P. Clough, Vice-President of the Manitoba road, has submitted several modifications to his road's offer to the Manitoba Legislature, which would effect a saving to the Province.

THE LATEST TRUST.

A Combine to Monopolize the Trade in Tropical Fruits.

ATLANTA, Ga., August 31.—It has been learned that a few days ago a secret conference of fruit men from all parts of the country was held at New Orleans at which a Tropical Fruit Trust was formed, with an aggregate capital of $19,000,000. The combination will purchase the entire offerings of tropical steamers, and consumers will be unable to get a single banana or plantain, save through the trust.

London capitalists have advanced $6,000,000 to build railroads in Honduras and elsewhere, to concentrate fruit at certain points.

WHY HE RESIGNED.

Secretary Lichtman of the K. of L. Resigns to Take up Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—General Secretary Lichtman, of the Knights of Labor, has resigned, to take effect September 8th. Lichtman says he resigned in order to freely take part in the present campaign. His resignation was accepted by Mr. Powderly, who has appointed John W. Hayes, Secretary of the General Executive Board, to fill the vacancy till the General Assembly meets in November.

[The cause of Lichtman's resignation explains itself, when taken in connection with the following dispatch, which was sent out by the associated press Thursday night: "Washington, August 30.—Senator Quay, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, furnishes for publication a letter from Charles S. Lichtman, of Philadelphia, Secretary of the Knights of Labor, in which he arraigns himself with the Republican party."—ED.]

Nuggets of News Received from Many Sources.

A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, Portuguese Africa, says the mutiny in the garrison has been quelled.

Admiral Porter's son authorizes the statement that the crisis in his father's case is past. He is now out of danger.

The famous educated chimpanzee, known as "Mr. Crowley," in Central Park, New York, died Friday morning.

M. Veehard, a Socialist leader, and five of his colleagues wre arrested at Amiens for inciting the workmen to strike.

Charles I. Debaum, the absconding assistant cashier of the Park National Bank of New York, who stole $110,000, was arrested in Canada last night.

At Queensboro, Ky., Thursday, James Hardesty, the principal merchant of West Louisville, shot and killed Wm. Murphey, a leading farmer; cause unknown.

Ellis Kahn, a cigarmaker, killed his wife in New York City and inflicted fatal wounds on himself. Kahn was wealthy and had retired from business. He was 62 years old; his wife was five years older. The bodies of both were cold in death when found.

Disastrous prairie fires are raging in Montana. The grass is being burned off the cattle ranges, and there will be a scarcity of winter and seed grass. The range of the Benton and St. Louis Cattle Company has been destroyed, and a large amount of hay has been burned.

There have been no further telegraphic communications from Presque Isle county, Michigan, where alleged cases of cholera appeared, and no further advices have been received. The only paper published in the county says the disease is, undoubtedly, contagious, but all means of its spreading will be prevented. Many persons have died and many are hovering between life and death. Late frosts, however, lend encouragement.

YORK AUGUST MEETING.

LONDON, August 30.—The great Yorkshire stakes were won, by Ossory, Arrandale second, Caerlaverock third.

The Gemcrack stakes were won by Cheroot, Pinzon second, Prospective third.

Deep Water Covention.

DENVER, August 31.—The Deep Water Convention to-day rescinded the action to hold the next Convention at Topeka, and left the matter with the Committee on Permanent Organization. The resolution presented yesterday afternoon by C. S. Thomas, of Colorado, declaring that it is the sense of the Convention that the United States should institute a system of reservoirs for the storage of water on western lands, to be constructed by the General Government and used under State and Federal control for the purpose of irrigation, together with an amendment that when these reservoirs are completed they shall be under the control of the State governments was adopted. After extending a vote of thanks to the citizens of Denver, the Convention adjourned sine die.

French and California Wines.

CHICAGO, August 31.—Henry Cruse, a partner in the Bordeaux wine house of Cruse & Fils, is in the city on his way to California. When interviewed he said: "The wine crop of France promises to be excellent, though it has been injured somewhat by the cold weather of August." Cruse is bound for California. "They do things so different there," said he; "the idea seems to be to turn your wine into money as fast as possible, while in France we want to keep it eight or ten years anyway."

Expected to Strike.

PITTSBURG, August 31.—A general strike of the flint glass workers of the country is expected to-morrow, when the new scale of engravers is supposed to go into effect. The engravers demand not less than 18 cents per dozen for engraving, and the manufacturers say they cannot pay the advance, which is about 50 per cent. on the cheapest grades of glassware. A suspension of work in New York and all the factories in the country is probable.

A Wealthy Passenger Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—William S. Gage, Jr., filed a petition in the Probate Court to-day, for letters of administration on the estate of Helen Maria Hampton, one of the victims of the City of Chester disaster. The petition reports that the estate is valued at about $100,000. The heirs are John, Clay, Grace and Ida Hampton.

"Flopped" Over to Tariff Reform.

An exchange says the following are some of the many who have left the party of rotten promises and free whisky, in a few States only:

Ex-Mayor Low, of Brooklyn, N. Y., President of the last Republican State Convention.

Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, of Brooklyn.

Rev. Dr. Storrs, of Brooklyn.

F. A. Crandall, editor, of Providence, Rhode Island.

Col. H. F. Fellows, President of the Springfield, Mo. Wagon Company.

Charles Lloyd Serrill, burgess of Darby, Delaware county, Pa.

James McGahey, textile worker and leading Republican of Delaware county.

N. O. Nelson, of St. Louis, manufacturer of iron goods.

General Rufus Barringer, of Charlotte, N. C.

Judge Frank T. Reid, a Republican candidate for Governor of Tennessee, who received the largest vote ever given to a Republican in that State.

Wm. Pointer, a prominent business man of Baltimore.

J. P. Dawley, lawyer, Cleveland, O.

W. S. Kerruish, lawyer, Cleveland, O.

C. S. Hazelton, business man, Grand Rapids, Mich.

A. W. Weed, one of the hardest Republican party workers for years in Cleveland, O.

William Widdicomb, business man, Grand Rapids, Mich.

G. M. Lemon, business man, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Joseph Marlin, business man, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Judge Aaron Ueland, Minneapolis.

Thomas G. Sherman, life-long Republican of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Congressman Fitch, of New York.

General Francis C. Barlow, of New York.

Charles F. Knight, prominent member of the Carpenters' Union, Alleghany City.

Benjamin C. Potts, of the firm of Potts & Coats, woolen manufacturers, Media, Pa.

Rev. Stephen De Kine, Greenport, L. I.

D. S. Early, Greenback-Labor candidate for Auditor-General in 1886, Harrisburg, Pa.

Captain J. R. Mumett, Greenbacker, of Homestead, Pa.

R. A. Jones, colored editor of a paper at Cleveland. He says a large proportion of the colored voters of Ohio will vote for Cleveland and Thurman. It is proper to mention here that a significant feature of the great Democratic ratification meeting in New York City was the presence of an organized body of 500 colored voters.

Answers to inquiries show that thirty-out of thirty-two labor leaders in New Jersey are in favor of tariff reform.

William Widdecomb, cashier of the Grand Rapids National bank, and once Republican candidate for Mayor.

Dr. C. S. Hazeltine, of the wholesale drug firm of Perkins, Hazeltine & Co.

Eli F. Harrington, for many years one of the proprietors of the Eagle, the Republican organ of Western Michigan.

S. M. Lyman, wholesale grocer.

W. W. Hyde, Assistant District Attorney in President Arthur's day.

Charles W. Black, general manager of the Oriental Cabinet Company, employing 300 hands and a power among the young men of the city.

L. S. Provin, one of the leading real estate men in Grand Rapids.

E. H. Maher, of the law firm of Maher & Felber.

Charles W. Sligh, of the Sligh Furniture Company.

Fred Brastread and Christian Melvey, Swedes, and influential with their countrymen, large mine owners and labor employers.

Hannibal Hart, an influential attorney and always a good Republican.

And again a few Indiana floppers:

Rev. Dr. Schaaf (pastor of the German Reformed Church), Rep.

Fort Wayne—W. D. Page (editor and proprietor Daily News), Rep.

Auburn—De Kalb county—James A. Barnes (editor of the Courier).

Tipton—W. Springer (farmer Rep). I can never stand the whisky clause in the Republican platform.

Henry Goar (farmer Rep).—I have voted the Republican ticket for twenty-eight years. I do not desert my party or my principles, but they have deserted me.

Rev. Neal (Methodist minister, Rep.)—I condemn the free whisky platform.

Clark county—W. T. Jacobs (coal dealer, Rep.) says that Cleveland has made a first-class President and that the Administration has been clean and useful.

Davis county—Alfred Jones (retired merchant, Rep.)—I will not vote for General Harrison.

Morgan county—Captain Sylvester Barnard, Rep.—I will not vote for Harrison. He is of a cold-blooded nature and will never be popular with the masses of the people.

Pulaski county—John Reese (farmer, Rep.)—I shall vote for Cleveland and Thurman this fall. Cleveland has given us a pure administration and advocates that which the workingman needs.

Pulaski county—George Hassmer (farmer)—I have voted the Republican ticket many years but cannot conscientiously do so again.

U. S. Hazen—I have been a Republican until this year, but cannot conscientiously support Harrison.

Marion county—Eugene Hunt (farmer, Rep.)—I can't vote for the Republican ticket when the platform declares for the taxation of the necessaries of life.

Marion county—Fredrick Vogel (heretofore a strong Republican and a veteran of the late war)—I will vote for Cleveland. His administration suits me, and the Pension Department under General Black is the best we have ever had.

Moses A. Dilts (real estate, Rep.)—We will lose votes on account of the free whisky plank.

William Bennett (farmer, Rep.)—The free whisky plank in our platform as a means of reducing the surplus does not meet with any approval.

The above list is respectfully dedicated to our Republican brothers of the press. The tide is setting all one way.

The Republican nominations:

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE, JAMES G. BLAINE.

For president, benjamin harrison.

For vice-president, levi p. morton.

Platform—Protection to TRUSTS and MONOPOLIES and american labor.—[Alta.

Proposals for the Purchase

—OF—

LOS ANGELES COUNTY BONDS.

Sealed Proposals will be received by the undersigned up to Saturday, September 29, 1888, for the purchase of all or any part of one hundred (100) Los Angeles County Court House Bonds, numbered consecutively from one hundred and one (101) to two hundred (200) inclusive of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, payable on the first (1st) day of January, A. D. 1907, or at any time before that date, at the pleasure of the said County, in Gold Coin of the United States, with interest thereon, at the rate of four and one-half per cent. (4½%) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first (1st) day of January and on the first (1st) day of July, of each year.

Said Bonds having been issued in conformity with resolutions of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County, dated September the 6th, A. D. 1886, and of December the 9th and 29th, A. D. 1886, and under authority conferred upon said Board by the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to establish a uniform system of County and Township Government," approved March 14th, A. D. 1883.

None of said Bonds will be sold for less than face value and accrued interest, nor shall any sale thereof be final or valid until approved by said Board of Supervisors, and the right is hereby expressly reserved to reject any or all aforesaid proposals.

All such bids must be accompanied by a duly certified check to the amount of ten (10) per cent of the bid. Mark envelope "Proposals for the purchase of Court House Bonds."

By order of the Board of Supervisors.

J. W. BROADED, County Treasurer.

EXCHANGE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The stock market was dull to-day, and fluctuations were within a narrow range with few exceptions. The improved feeling on the Northern Pacific made those stocks the leaders of the market, though transactions in them were comparatively small, progress was made in an upward direction. St. Paul, Western Union and Union Pacific were more active, though presenting the same line of features in general.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened weak at 91¾c., but became strong after first sales and advanced to 91c. This was followed by a sharp decline, but the market rallied again in the last half hour on heavy buying, and closed strong at 92⅝, the highest point of the day.

MONEY QUOTATIONS.

NEW YORK, August 31.—Money on call easy; 1½@2 per cent.

Mr. George W. Remington, who is summering at Catalina, is paying a flying visit to the city. He says that the tents on the Avalon beach are well peopled and that the season is in full blast there. He returns to-day.

We had a pleasant call yesterday from Mrs. Clara Foltz, of San Diego. She came here to attend the annual meeting of the State Normal School, of which she is one of the Directors. Mrs. Foltz made a Democratic speech a short time ago at Lobero Theatre, in Santa Barbara, to an immense and enthusiastic meeting. She will continue the campaign on the 5th instant at Tulare City, and has appointments all up through the San Joaquin Valley and to Oakland and San Francisco. Mrs. Foltz is an eloquent and forcible speaker, and has made the tariff subject a study for several years, so that she discusses that issue clearly and intelligently.

Judge Normile, of St. Louis, has been visiting in Los Angeles, but went down to San Diego yesterday. He will return to this city for a short stay in a few days. The Judge is an ardent Democrat and an able speaker. An effort ought to be made by the local Democracy to secure at least one speech from Judge Normile during his stay in this city. By the way, he belongs to the Clan Na Gael, but, like all sensible Irishmen, he stays with the regular Democratic camp, in which all the able men of his race have fought their political battles. By all means let us have one speech from this eloquent son of Erin, just to show the Hogans and Donneys what the real brains of their race are thinking about.

NEWS NOTES.

Over $400 worth of ostrich feathers will go East to be exhibited at Columbus.

A few Republicans will meet to-night on the corner of Fort and Second streets.

The Directors of the Girls' Home will hold an important meeting in the office of Mr. Wm. Lacy, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A full attendance of the Directors is requested.

Secretary Ward yesterday received from the Occidental Oil Company an excellent exhibit of its manufactures, consisting of twelve liquids and several compounds. These will have an especial place on the shelves of the Board of Trade.

Mrs. Sarah Noel left her house in Pasadena, August 27th, about 8 o'clock A. M. Since then no trace can be found of her. She was 29 years of age, 5 feet 3 inches high; weight, 175 pounds; dark complexion; had on a black skirt, black jersey and white straw hat, with white trimmings.

At 7:30 o'clock to-morrow night the first services of the Central Baptist Church will be held in the building lately purchased at the corner of Third and Hill streets. The following clergymen will be present: Rev. S. H. Weller, of the Presbyterian Church; Rev. E. W. Caswell, of the M. E. Church; Rev. H. W. Crabbe, of the United Presbyterian Church; Rev. W. B. Stradley, of the M. E. Church South; Rev. C. W. Heisler, of the English Lutheran Church; Rev. W. W. Tinker, of the East Los Angeles Baptist Church.

A Fortunate Druggist.

Mr. Edwin W. Joy for many years and now a prosperous druggist on the corner of Stockton and Market streets in San Francisco, probably never dreamed of rivaling in wealth the medicine kings of the country. But various rumors having been floating around to the effect that he has struck it big, an Examiner reporter was detailed to unearth the cause, and after much difficulty unravelled the following story:

It seems that about seven years ago an English physician, a great student of botany, located for a brief season in this city. His practice was not extensive, and yet the few cases of a general nature that came to him attracted no little attention. His greatest success seemed to be in the treatment of liver and kidney disorders, and vitiated blood. In fact his ability to cope with these common complaints was little short of the marvelous. He seemed almost infallible, and his quiet, modest methods and his well kept secret was as much a mystery as himself. After his departure about a year later Mr. Joy determined to fathom the secret, and copying all the prescriptions he had filled for the erratic doctor, he began a systematic analysis. In his examination he discovered running all through the prescriptions for liver and kidney troubles, vitiated blood and stomach disorders a couple of vegetable extracts indigenous to California, so simple and so well known under homely every day names to every school boy as to entirely dissipate the suspicion that they were the active principles involved. So certain, however, was Mr. Joy that he had discovered the secret that he embodied the new elements in a preparation of Sarsaparilla to disguise the taste, and put it before his customers under the modest name of Joy's Vegetable Sarsapapilla. Immediately the same marvelous stories came back of its astonishing effects, and the mystery was solved, and the talk it has created has already caused it to step into prominence, and orders pour in daily from all over the coast. People seem to be taking it and writing and talking about it throughout the State. And thus another California industry leaps into existence.—S. F. Examiner.
